THOUSANDS MADE HOMELESS BY FIRE

Flames Sweep Broad Tract in Philippines and Destroy Many Houses.

RELIEF MEASURES TAKEN

Native Quarter of Iloilo Destroyed—No Loss of Life Reported.

MANILA, April 20.—Fire destroyed 1,100 Nipa houses in the district of Singalong, Palo and Bambang, in Manila, this afternoon. The American settlements at Ermita and Malate escaped through the hard work of the firemen, assisted by soldiers and citizens. The flames, fanned by a heavy gale, swept an area of 100 acres clean within two hours and destroyed the homes of 100 residents and 1,000 natives. The native refugees are now sheltered in the schools and other public buildings and many are camping in open spaces. The damage is conservatively estimated at $200,000 in gold. No casualties are reported.

The officials of the Health Department do not agree with this estimate of the damage, which was made by the police and firemen. They assert that 265 houses were destroyed and 1,500 natives rendered homeless. Their estimate of the financial loss is the same as that of the other municipal department. It is thought that the figures given by the health officers are nearer correct.

The districts of Singalong, Palo and Bambang lie to the east of the walled city of Manila and just behind the residential districts of Malate and Ermita, which face the bay. Nearly all the native houses in the fire-swept district are Nipa huts of comparatively small value.

Native Quarter Destroyed.

MANILA, April 20.—The latest reports from Iloilo say that the fire there had been checked. The native quarter of the city was destroyed. The property loss is estimated at $100,000 gold. The business section of the city was untouched. Several hundred houses were destroyed, and 6,000 to 10,000 natives made homeless.

Adequate relief measures have been taken. The homeless have been housed in schools and other buildings. The police and the city will provide for the refugees, and no unusual suffering is feared. There was no loss of life by the earthquake. The shocks, though the most severe experienced in fifteen years, were not violent enough to cause much destruction. Dispatches from points in several provinces report severe shocks, but little damage.

The total damage caused by the earthquake in the entire archipelago will not exceed $10,000.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Superintendent Allen Presents Books and Asks for Thorough Investigation.

MATTER NOT YET SETTLED

Joint Session of Council to Be Held Tuesday Night—Personal and Briefs.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hull Street.

After an informal session that lasted several hours, the subcommittee from the Almshouse and Poor Committee of the Council last night referred back to the committee of the whole the entire matter of the charges of irregularity in bookkeeping made against Superintendent Allen of Maury Cemetery, by Assemblyman L. R. Brown.

A called session will be held early this week and then the books of Superintendent Allen will be examined and the allegations of the Assemblyman from the First Ward investigated. Mr. Brown declared he visited the almshouse some days ago, and found three or four fever inmates there that had been accounted for by Superintendent Allen in his report to the Council.

Meas. Adkins, Ferguson and Hooker, of the Council, were the members of the subcommittee last night, and after a long session in the store of Assemblyman Adkins, it was decided to send the matter back to the regular Council committee.

City Attorney Charles L. Page, in an opinion given to members of the Council, said that no two or three members of any standing committee could make a report that would be legal or binding.

Superintendent Allen had his books ready last night, and declared that he was anxious to have a thorough investigation. The fact that all the inmates of the almshouse reported on the books as being taken care of by the city were not present when Assemblyman Brown visited the place is explained by Superintendent Allen in a statement which says that one or two of them often visit in the country and another walks into Manchester many days each week. Mr. Allen has been the superintendent of the almshouse since the death of Maury Cemetery for many years.

The building at Eleventh and Bainbridge Streets was first rented and then an option was secured for one year. The Elks' Home is now being remodeled and will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks. It was decided to purchase the "home." The purchase money has been paid, and the building now belongs to the Elks of Manchester.

DOUGHT TO HAVE PAID COLOMBIA

So Declares Richard Olney Regarding American Possession of Canal Strip.

CRITICIZES MR. ROOSEVELT

Says President Has Put Nation in Attitude of Debt Collecting Agency.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Richard Olney, who was one of the principal speakers at to-day's session of the American Law Society, criticized President Roosevelt's Santo Domingo policy and condemned the taking of the Panama canal strip without compensation to Colombia. As to Santo Domingo, Mr. Olney said the United States was being an international debt-collecting agency; that the policy tended to tyranny and tended to retard rather than advance the progress of international law, which he said was not founded on the will of a Caesar.

Colombia, he said, ought to have been compensated for the territory taken by the United States for the Panama Canal.

Secretary Straus, of the department of commerce and labor, presided to-day, and opened the discussion with an earnest expression of the hope that if the Hague conference did not reach an agreement as to the limitation as armament among the nations, an understanding would be arrived at to prevent a neutral power from furnishing money to a belligerent. It ought, he said, to be made a hostile act to furnish money to nations involved in war.

Russia's Change of View.

John W. Foster announced as a fact that President Roosevelt had proposed to some of the leading nations of the world "that we at least make a limitation on the size of vessels of war that shall be built in the future." Mr. Foster called attention to Russia's changed attitude on the question of disarmament, which, he said, she favored at the first Hague conference, and which she opposed now. Professor Theodore S. Woolsey, of Connecticut, urged that "wars of passion" could be abolished if international law should provide that all wars must begin with a proclamation, and that a "cooling" time of thirty or sixty days intervene between the proclamation and actual hostilities. Such an arrangement, he said, would have obviated the South African War and the Russo-Japanese War. Representative Richard Barthold spoke of the necessity of making the Hague conference permanent, and said that the United States, with the impetus towards peace which President Roosevelt had achieved, could accomplish result by a united demand at the next Hague conference.

Secretary Straus, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, presided at the meeting.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Elihu Root; Vice-Presidents, Chief Justice Fuller, Justice David J. Brewer, Justice William R. Day, William H. Taft, Andrew Carnegie, Joseph Gray, John W. Griggs, W. Morrow, Richard Olney, Oscar S. Straus and Horace Porter.
